How to use this system

Each prompt below is ready to paste directly into ChatGPT, Claude, or any AI tool you use. The context is pre-loaded — you only fill in the parts in [square brackets].

Step 1	Copy the full prompt — everything from the first word to the last.
Step 2	Replace every [bracketed item] with your specific details.
Step 3	Paste into ChatGPT and run. Review the output before sending anything to a client.
Step 4	Edit to match your voice. You know your client. The AI gives you the draft.

IMPORTANT: You are the licensed professional. Review every AI output before it goes to a client. These prompts accelerate your work — they do not replace your judgment. BC agency obligations remain yours.

PROMPT 1 OF 3

MLS Listing Description

The most time-consuming writing task in every listing. This prompt delivers a polished, MLS-ready property description with the right tone and structure — in under 2 minutes.

PROMPT 01 — MLS Listing Description

BC CONTEXT

You are a licensed BC real estate agent writing an MLS listing description for BCMLS.

Property details:
- Address: [full address, city, BC]
- List price: [$XXX,XXX]
- Bedrooms: [X]  |  Bathrooms: [X]  |  Square footage: [X sq ft]
- Property type: [detached / townhouse / condo / etc.]
- Year built: [XXXX]
- Lot size: [X sq ft or X acres — omit if strata]
- Key features: [list 4-6 features, e.g. "updated kitchen, south-facing yard, double garage"]
- Neighbourhood highlights: [schools, transit, parks, amenities]
- Unique selling point: [the one thing that sets this property apart]

Write a listing description that:
1. Opens with a compelling hook — not "Welcome to this beautiful home"
2. Highlights the features in natural, conversational language
3. Mentions the neighbourhood and lifestyle, not just the property
4. Ends with a call to action to book a showing
5. Is between 150-200 words
6. Avoids real estate clichés like "must-see," "stunning," and "motivated seller"
7. Is compliant with BCMLS listing standards — no discriminatory language, no
unverified claims

Return only the listing description. No commentary.
```

BC NOTE BCMLS descriptions must not include discriminatory language under the BC Human Rights Code or BCFSA conduct standards. Do not reference schools as a selling point in a way that implies family composition. Verify all measurements before publishing — agents are responsible for accuracy under RESA.

PROMPT 2 OF 3

Price Reduction Conversation Prep

The hardest conversation in a listing. This prompt prepares you with the right framing, data-backed rationale, and language to present a price reduction professionally — so the seller feels informed, not managed.

PROMPT 02 — Price Reduction Conversation Prep

BC CONTEXT

You are a licensed BC real estate agent preparing for a price reduction conversation with your seller client.

Listing context:
- Property address: [address]
- Original list price: [$XXX,XXX]
- Current list price: [$XXX,XXX — if already reduced once]
- Days on market: [X days]
- Number of showings to date: [X]
- Number of offers received: [0 or X]
- Comparable recent sales (provide 1-3):
  - [address]: sold at [$XXX,XXX], [X] days on market
  - [address]: sold at [$XXX,XXX], [X] days on market
- Proposed new list price: [$XXX,XXX]
- Seller's original expectation or concern: [e.g. "they believe the market will turn" / "they need a certain net"]

Prepare:
1. A brief summary of the market signals that support the price reduction
(data-first, not opinion)
2. A script for how to open the conversation — empathetic, direct, not apologetic
3. Three objection responses for: (a) "let's just wait," (b) "the other agent said we'd get more," (c) "we can't go that low"
4. A one-sentence close that moves the seller toward a decision

Keep language professional and peer-level — this seller is a BC homeowner making a major financial decision.

BC NOTE Under BCFSA conduct rules, you have a duty to be honest and forthright with your seller client. Presenting market data to support a price adjustment is part of your fiduciary obligation — not a sales tactic. Do not withhold showing feedback or market comparables from your seller.

PROMPT 3 OF 3

Post-Showing Feedback Request

Most agents never follow up after showings. This prompt gives you a professional, non-pushy feedback request to send the same evening — so you get the intelligence you need to advise your seller.

PROMPT 03 — Post-Showing Feedback Request

● SELLER ADVISORY

You are a licensed BC real estate agent following up after a showing on your listing.

Context:
- Property address: [address]
- Showing date and time: [e.g. Tuesday, March 18 at 2:00 PM]
- Showing agent name: [agent's name, if known — otherwise "the showing agent"]
- Showing agent's brokerage: [brokerage name, if known]
- Any known context about the buyer: [e.g. "first-time buyer," "relocating
from out of province," or leave blank]

Write a feedback request email or message that:
1. Thanks the showing agent for bringing their client
2. Asks 3 specific questions: (a) overall impression, (b) how it compared to other properties they've seen, (c) any specific concerns that came up
3. Mentions that feedback is used to advise the seller — framing it as professional peer-to-peer, not desperation
4. Keeps a tone that is warm, collegial, and brief — under 120 words
5. Ends with an open door for further conversation or a second showing

Write two versions: one for email, one for a short text message (under 50 words).

BC NOTE Feedback collected from showing agents can be shared with your seller client and should be. Sellers have the right to know how buyers are receiving their property — this informs price and presentation decisions. Ensure any feedback shared does not reveal protected personal information about the buyer.

WHY THIS WORKS

Before vs. After

Without this system	With this system
Writing listing descriptions from scratch — 20+ minutes	Paste prompt, add address details — done in 2 minutes
Generic price reduction emails that feel awkward	Professional, empathetic message with BC context built in

Without this system	With this system
Forgetting to follow up after showings	Feedback prompt ready to send same evening
Starting every task with a blank AI page	Pre-loaded BC context every time — no re-explaining required
